Since the event was announced via a flyer and we have not asked anyone to speak, perhaps we could have an agenda. Depending on the size of the crowd, have index cards for attendees who want to submit questions in writing which can be announced beginning of the meeting.

Do we want to modify the survey we have been using and ask everyone to fill one out. I thinking short and simple if we go with a survey.

I'm referring to the mayors, law enforcement officials, and people like Buddy and Steve Shular.

And miracles do happen. Vanderbilt beat Georgia!
